AN BABHTA DEIRIDH 1979

Do'n tríú bhliain as a chéile tá sé de phribhléid agam thar chionn Chomhairle Uladh de'n Chumann Lúith-Chleas Gaeil fíor-chaoín fáilte a fhearadh roimh Gaeil Uladh ar an ocaid mór seo i saol an Chúige. Tá a dhraiocht féin ag baint leis an lá seo i gCúige Uladh díreach mar atá leis an mbabhta deiridh ins na cúigi eile.

Imbliana tá cúpla úr sa choimhlint san chluiche sinnsir, Muineachán agus Dún na nGall agus is beag duine a shilfeadh i dtús na bliana go mbeadh an scéal amhlaidh. Ach mar sin is fearr, mar ní bheadh sé ar leasa an Chumainn i gCúige Uladh an dá chonndae chéanna bheith i gcoimhlint gach bliain.

Tá fáilte ar leith roimh Cho. Mhuineacháin a bheith ar ais sa bhbabhta deiridh, tar éis seacht mbliain is fiche a chaitheamh san 'fhásach' ach tá fáilte tuillte ag Dún na nGall comh maith mar is beag conndae in Éirinn go bhfuil an oiread sin deachrachtai le sárú is atá le sárú sa chonndae sin.

Yes, today is Ulster Football Final day and from the high Mournes to the Rosses and from the Sperrins to Killanny the Gaels of Ulster will gather in their thousands to witness the culmination of a year's hard work and sweat and dedication and to cheer the county that will emerge to contest the prestigious All-Ireland series in 1979.

New counties, Donegal and Monaghan, hold the limelight in today's Senior Football Final and it is interesting that this is the first occasion for twenty-seven years that two counties south of the border have contested the Final.

A special word of welcome is due to Monaghan and its loyal band of supporters for reaching the Final against all the odds. Donegal too deserves a special word of praise because the difficulties which have to be surmounted in Donegal to keep the G.A.A. alive and glowing are sometimes not appreciated.

Let's hope that today's Final will set a headline for skill and sportsmanship and honest endeavour. Down and Tyrone are worthy minor finalists. Each has had the honour of winning an All-Ireland in this grade. It could well be that we will be witnessing an All-Ireland finalist and a possible All-Ireland champion today.

It is with pleasure I record the ever-growing development of the G.A.A. in the province. New grounds have been officially opened this year in Crosskeys, Co. Cavan; in Ballinderry, Kilrea and Lavey, Co. Derry; St. Paul's, Belfast and Threemilehouse in Co. Monaghan; while others such as Aughnamullen, Oram and Killanny, all in Co. Monaghan, are patiently waiting the official blessing. Many others not officially opened are in regular use and thus at grassroots level the G.A.A. moves forward inexorably.

I would like too to pay a special tribute to the many thousands from every parish in Ulster who demonstrated their support for Crossmaglen Rangers (in their long battle with the British Army to hold on to St. Oliver Plunkett G.A.A. park) in the monster and dignified protest march in Crossmaglen last Sunday. The heart of Ulster is indeed sound and the Ulster Council and Crossmaglen Rangers are deeply grateful.

Despite many pessimistic prognostications about the standard of football in Ulster, Sean O'Neill and his merry men captured the fourteenth Railway Cup title for Ulster this year. It's surprising what a bit of inspiration plus a large amount of sweat can do! We all indeed salute them.

Beir bua agus beannacht.

To all, players, spectators and officials alike who help to promote and further the aims of the G.A.A. in the Province, it accords thanks. The Council also thanks those responsible for the arrangements for the Finals, including the Clones Parks Committee and the Garda Síochána.*

DONEGAL TO MAINTAIN UNBEATEN RECORD IN CLONES

THE DONEGAL team return to-day to Clones where for the first time in 1972 and again in 1974 the County won its only two Ulster Senior Football Championship titles to date as well as its only Minor Football Championship in 1956. On the face of it then Clones can be considered a lucky venue for Donegal and despite the fact that Monaghan provide the opposition to-day and are playing on home soil the Donegal team is quietly confident that it can maintain its unbeaten record in Clones in Ulster Finals.

This is only Donegal's fifth appearance in an Ulster Final and all have been since 1963, so it can be said that the sixties and seventies have been reasonably successful for the County while it is evident from Monaghan's record of eleven Ulster Championships that the good times for them were in the early part of this Century.

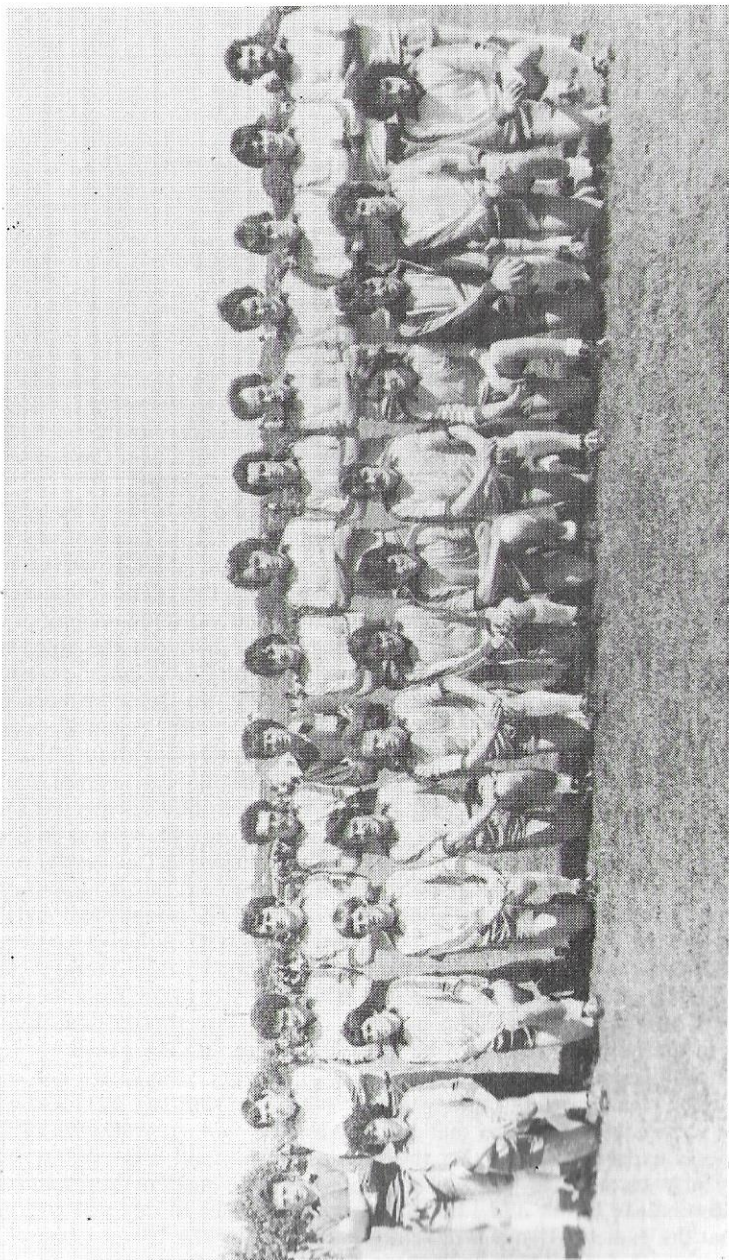

The Donegal team to-day has still many links with the 1974 winning team and indeed has still one member of the 1972 team—Seamus Bonner. In terms of experience of the big occasion, Donegal has a distinct advantage over Monaghan. However, on this the first meeting of Donegal and Monaghan in an Ulster Final there is no complacency in the Donegal camp but rather a healthy respect and admiration for the manner in which they played to reach to-day's final. We in Donegal have admired the great run of Monaghan Champions Scotstown in reaching the All-Ireland Club Championship Final and no doubt this has been a factor which has contributed to the resurgence of the County team and the McKenna Cup victory has no doubt added to the confidence of the team. Donegal's return to form can be attributed to greater determination and commitment than in the past four years and credit for this new spirit must go to team Manager, Sean O'Donnell who has over the past year and a half patiently put together a team after a great number of players had been given an opportunity to show their paces and now he has a blend of youth and experience which are the hallmarks of all successful teams.

Many people have remarked also on the great improvement shown by Donegal on their mediocre displays in the National Football League and I personally feel that one of the reasons is that the present National League structure is not conducive to improving the standard of our games and hopefully the present efforts by the Central Activities Committee to re-structure the competition will result in better games from the point of view of players, administrators and the spectators who deserve better than they have been getting in the past few years for the money they put into the game.

The Donegal Team, their Management and supporters everywhere are looking forward to a good clean sporting game with Monaghan and while we all would wish to see Donegal successful, I am sure that I speak for the G.A.A. followers of Ulster generally when I express the wish that the standard of football displayed in to-day's game is very important, since on all sides there has been sustained criticism of the standard of football in Ulster and I hope that the two teams to-day will give a clear indication that the game in Ulster is alive and well and that the Ulster Champions of 1979 will be a match for the best on August 12th and 16th September.

The Final, through the

MONAGHAN EYES

of Séamus McCluskey

IT IS surely incredible that the vast majority of the present Monaghan playing panel had not even seen the light of day when Monaghan last played in an Ulster Senior Football Final and haven't the slightest idea of how it feels to have your county in the Ulster Final, much less actually playing in one. The long twenty-seven years wait, since 1952, to figure in the Final is the longest for any Ulster county, with the exception of neighbours Fermanagh.

Forgive me if I can see this Final only through Monaghan colours. After all, what with blue eyes and white hair, what other colours can I possibly see it through??? But 27 years has been a tortuous wait, and ever since that fateful 1952 Final when Cavan beat us by 1-8 to 0-8 at Breffni Park, during one of the National Daily Newspapers strikes, it has been a niggling thought in my mind at every Ulster Final since then—"Just when will Monaghan ever again reach this stage?"

The minors gave us some hope in 1961 and again last year, 1978; but the seniors have inevitably fallen at some stage or other along the line before the magical Ulster Final Day. Now, at long last, we've finally got there, and, if Monaghan win today, you are in for the greatest display of blue-and-white you have ever witnessed, for the very simple reason that, since the advent of the 'seventies, figures have proven that Monaghan has the most enthusiastic following of all the Ulster counties. This was proven at Breffni Park only a few short weeks ago; at Castleblayney a couple of weeks before that again, and at Dungannon, Portlaoise and even Croke Park on various occasions during the past five years. If you don't believe me—then just watch it if Monaghan win today.

And what if Monaghan should win today??? To be quite honest, I haven't the foggiest notion what it will be like. I just hadn't much interest in Gaelic Football when Monaghan last won an Ulster title forty-one years ago, being only a youngster running around Emyvale in short pants and worrying about my third class sums for Monday morning. So, a Monaghan win today would certainly be a new experience for all of us, since there weren't many of us kicking around when Monaghan last took the Ulster title in 1938 and went on to meet Galway in an All-Ireland semi-final at Mullingar—a game that featured the first ever broadcast by the one and only Michael O'Hehir.

However, we are not so presumptuous as to think that the Ulster title is just going to be handed to us to-day out of sympathy or just to give the poor lads from Monaghan a bit of a gee-up, to bring them into line with Antrim, Armagh, Derry, Donegal, Down, Cavan and Tyrone, all of whom have figured in All-Ireland semi-finals since Monaghan last got to one. In no way are the footballers of Donegal going to show the slightest bit of mercy towards us since they, too, have their eyes set on much higher things, but they, too, are going to find that Monaghan will be no pushover and that those chaps out there in the white-and-blue have but one intention in their minds—and no three guesses as to what that particular intention might be.

Yes indeed, these lads of ours are hungry for a success that has far too long eluded us, and the huge Monaghan following are behind them to a man, woman and child, for there are not going to be many full houses anywhere throughout Co. Monaghan this afternoon.

Finin Mac an Bhaird

— Donegal Captain :

“I HAVE had the pleasure of being involved in an Ulster Senior Football Final before in 1974, but it gives me greater pleasure on this occasion to captain the present Donegal team. We look forward to this clash with Monaghan and we are delighted with their progress in football over the last year and particularly their success in this year's Ulster Championship to date. We are confident, however, that we can put a temporary stop to their successful march. We have yet to be tipped as favourites for any of our championship matches and that is the way we like it. Monaghan have justifiably been quoted as favourites, but I believe that the present Donegal team will once again prove that bookies and correspondents can also be wrong. We look forward to a great game of football and irrespective of who wins I would hope that all Ulster will support them in the All-Ireland Semi-Final against the might of Munster. Ar aghaidh le laimh dhearg Uladh.”

Monaghan Captain —
Brendan Brady

MONAGHAN have, in recent years, experienced an improvement in their standard of football — an improvement which is long overdue considering our position in the footballing ladder in Ulster in the 40's and 50's. Let us hope that our present upsurge will be maintained and that we will again establish ourselves as one of the top teams in Ulster if not in the country. The team which I have the honour of captaining to-day has been installed as favourites, a tag which, although flatters us, we would prefer to be without, as the favourites have lost in almost every game of this year's Ulster Senior Football Championships.

The novel pairing of Monaghan and Donegal itself is a tribute to the courage and fighting spirit of both counties and should add to the interest and excitement of the occasion. We have one of the strongest panels this county has ever had and this factor together with the dedicated work of our manager, Sean McCague, our trainer, Paddy Kerr, and the players themselves has produced a team which should bring Monaghan back among the foremost counties in the country.

Meet the Team Managers

DONEGAL

SEAN O'DONNELL is now nearing the completion of his second year in charge of the Donegal Senior team and is the first man to be elected for a three year period.

He has won a Leinster Colleges' Championship medal with Multyfarnham in 1952 and an All-Ireland Colleges' medal with Leinster College in 1953, Senior and Minor Championships and Senior League medals with Dungloe and a Junior Championship medal with Rannafast. He has the right temperament for a Manager and is at all times cool and in control of the situation. He has the ability to get the best out of the team and his policy of patient team building is now beginning to bear fruit.

MONAGHAN

SEAN McCAGUE : For a time he was Joint Secretary of the Co. Board. He is Principal Teacher of Urbleshanny N.S. near Scotstown. He played for Ballyvourney, Co. Cork, in college competitions as well as for his native Scotstown in juvenile, minor and junior grades, winning a Brennan Cup medal in 1963. Happiest when watching the honest endeavours of juvenile players, he has worked wonders since taking over as "Supremo" of the Senior county side, getting more out of his players than any of his predecessors. Today's appearance of Monaghan in the Final for the first time in 27 years is as much a tribute to Sean McCague as it is to the ability and dedication of their players.

THE G.A.A.'S ROVING AMBASSADORS

TWO GREAT "Roving Ambassadors" of the G.A.A. whom we cannot let this programme pass without mentioning:—

Jack Mahon (Galway): Former G.A.A. "All-Star" and now writer in excelsis, he visited us recently and had quite a deal to say about both Monaghan and Donegal. We hope his pen will never run dry; and he is always assured of a hearty Cead Mile Failte any time he returns.

Donncha O Dulaing: A more popular Corkman in Ulster than even Jack Lynch could dream of being. We mentioned him last year, but must do so again as there is seldom a "Highways and Byways" programme broadcast on R.T.E. in which the G.A.A. is not mentioned. May you never lose the touch, Donncha.

Guimid Rath De ar an bheirt acu, agus go mba fada buan iad.
